This listing reflects gifts made directly to the LSU Health Sciences Foundation between 7/1/2010 and 10/31/2010. If you wish to make an honorarium or memorial, call the Foundation at (318) 861-0855 or visit us online at www.foundations.lsuhsc.edu.

Support the LSU Foundation — Make a Gift Today!

Name Information:
- Name:
- Address:
- City/State/Zip:
- Acct. No.:
- E-Mail:__________________________

Donor Information:
- Name:
- Address:
- City/State/Zip:
- Acct. No.:
- E-Mail:__________________________

Payment Options:
- American Express
- MasterCard
- Visa
- Check
- EFT
- Cashier’s Check
- Money Order
- Traveler’s Check
- Credit Card

Signature:

This gift is made in memory of _______________________.

This gift is made in honor of ________________________.

Please notify the LSU Health Sciences Foundation of the gift.

No notification is required by the LSU Health Sciences Foundation.

This gift is designated to the: ________________________.

Employer Options:
- Unpaid
- Paid
- Reimbursed

Source Options:
- Employer
- Employee
- Anonymous
- Gift-in-Kind

In Honor of:
- Gift in honor of Dr. Emily A. Bell
- Gift for the benefit of Dr. Emily A. Bell
- Gift to support the LSU Health Sciences Foundation
- Gift to the LSU Health Sciences Foundation

This listing reflects gifts made directly to the LSU Health Sciences Foundation between 7/1/2010 and 10/31/2010. If you wish to make an honorarium or memorial, call the Foundation at (318) 861-0855 or visit us online at www.foundations.lsuhsc.edu.

Support the LSU Foundation — Make a Gift Today!

Name Information:
- Name:
- Address:
- City/State/Zip:
- Acct. No.:
- E-Mail:__________________________

Donor Information:
- Name:
- Address:
- City/State/Zip:
- Acct. No.:
- E-Mail:__________________________

Payment Options:
- American Express
- MasterCard
- Visa
- Check
- EFT
- Cashier’s Check
- Money Order
- Traveler’s Check
- Credit Card

Signature:

This gift is made in memory of _______________________.

This gift is made in honor of ________________________.

Please notify the LSU Health Sciences Foundation of the gift.

No notification is required by the LSU Health Sciences Foundation.

This gift is designated to the: ________________________.

Employer Options:
- Unpaid
- Paid
- Reimbursed

Source Options:
- Employer
- Employee
- Anonymous
- Gift-in-Kind

In Honor of:
- Gift in honor of Dr. Emily A. Bell
- Gift for the benefit of Dr. Emily A. Bell
- Gift to support the LSU Health Sciences Foundation
- Gift to the LSU Health Sciences Foundation

This listing reflects gifts made directly to the LSU Health Sciences Foundation between 7/1/2010 and 10/31/2010. If you wish to make an honorarium or memorial, call the Foundation at (318) 861-0855 or visit us online at www.foundations.lsuhsc.edu.
On October 27th, LSUHS-S presented the Chancellor LSUS Foundation Scholarship to one lucky employee. The funds are to be used by the selected employee to help with any educational needs they may have. Of the various applicants, one employee was chosen to receive The LSUHS-S Chancellor LSUS Foundation Scholarship.

Baron, in his second year as Chancellor of LSUS, has set out to answer the community’s questions about the future of LSUS. In Shreveport, L to R: Dr. Vincent J. Marsala, President, LSUHS Foundation; Bryan ‘Bo’ Ross, Chair, Development Committee, LSUHS Foundation; Dr. Robert A. Barish, Chancellor, LSUHS-S; State Rep. Roy Burrell; Dr. Hugh E. Mighty, MD, MBA, who for a quarter century, has served in various leadership positions in academia and government. According to the national center for education statistics, the number of students enrolled in postsecondary institutions in the United States increased by 10.3% from 2011 to 2012. This increase was driven by a higher enrollment rate among high school graduates, with 80.6% of high school graduates enrolled in college in 2012, compared to 77.8% in 2011. The number of students enrolled in two-year institutions increased by 11.2% from 2011 to 2012, while the number of students enrolled in four-year institutions increased by 9.2% over the same period.

In Shreveport, LSUHS Foundation and University of Mississippi Medical Center. To date, the program has provided $25 million in funding to support research and education initiatives. According to estimates made by the National Institutes of Health, the program has supported over 100,000 investigators and has awarded over $4.8 billion in grants. The program is expected to continue to grow in the coming years, with plans to allocate an additional $4.5 billion in funding over the next decade.

The LSUHS-S Chancellor LSUS Foundation Scholarship is to support, through the Louisiana State University System, the development of new research and teaching initiatives. The program is designed to encourage and support the development of new programs and projects that will enhance the quality of education and research at LSUHS-S. The program is open to all researchers and educators who are affiliated with the university and who have demonstrated a commitment to excellence in their work.

On October 27th, LSUHS-S Chancellor LSUS Foundation Scholarship to one lucky employee. The funds are to be used by the selected employee to help with any educational needs they may have. Of the various applicants, one employee was chosen to receive The LSUHS-S Chancellor LSUS Foundation Scholarship. Barion, in his second year as Chancellor of LSUS, has set out to answer the community’s questions about the future of LSUS. In Shreveport, L to R: Dr. Vincent J. Marsala, President, LSUHS Foundation; Bryan ‘Bo’ Ross, Chair, Development Committee, LSUHS Foundation; Dr. Robert A. Barish, Chancellor, LSUHS-S; State Rep. Roy Burrell; Dr. Hugh E. Mighty, MD, MBA, who for a quarter century, has served in various leadership positions in academia and government. According to the national center for education statistics, the number of students enrolled in postsecondary institutions in the United States increased by 10.3% from 2011 to 2012. This increase was driven by a higher enrollment rate among high school graduates, with 80.6% of high school graduates enrolled in college in 2012, compared to 77.8% in 2011. The number of students enrolled in two-year institutions increased by 11.2% from 2011 to 2012, while the number of students enrolled in four-year institutions increased by 9.2% over the same period.

In Shreveport, LSUHS Foundation and University of Mississippi Medical Center. To date, the program has provided $25 million in funding to support research and education initiatives. According to estimates made by the National Institutes of Health, the program has supported over 100,000 investigators and has awarded over $4.8 billion in grants. The program is expected to continue to grow in the coming years, with plans to allocate an additional $4.5 billion in funding over the next decade.

The LSUHS-S Chancellor LSUS Foundation Scholarship is to support, through the Louisiana State University System, the development of new research and teaching initiatives. The program is designed to encourage and support the development of new programs and projects that will enhance the quality of education and research at LSUHS-S. The program is open to all researchers and educators who are affiliated with the university and who have demonstrated a commitment to excellence in their work.

On October 27th, LSUHS-S presented the Chancellor LSUS Foundation Scholarship to one lucky employee. The funds are to be used by the selected employee to help with any educational needs they may have. Of the various applicants, one employee was chosen to receive The LSUHS-S Chancellor LSUS Foundation Scholarship. Barion, in his second year as Chancellor of LSUS, has set out to answer the community’s questions about the future of LSUS. In Shreveport, L to R: Dr. Vincent J. Marsala, President, LSUHS Foundation; Bryan ‘Bo’ Ross, Chair, Development Committee, LSUHS Foundation; Dr. Robert A. Barish, Chancellor, LSUHS-S; State Rep. Roy Burrell; Dr. Hugh E. Mighty, MD, MBA, who for a quarter century, has served in various leadership positions in academia and government. According to the national center for education statistics, the number of students enrolled in postsecondary institutions in the United States increased by 10.3% from 2011 to 2012. This increase was driven by a higher enrollment rate among high school graduates, with 80.6% of high school graduates enrolled in college in 2012, compared to 77.8% in 2011. The number of students enrolled in two-year institutions increased by 11.2% from 2011 to 2012, while the number of students enrolled in four-year institutions increased by 9.2% over the same period.

In Shreveport, LSUHS Foundation and University of Mississippi Medical Center. To date, the program has provided $25 million in funding to support research and education initiatives. According to estimates made by the National Institutes of Health, the program has supported over 100,000 investigators and has awarded over $4.8 billion in grants. The program is expected to continue to grow in the coming years, with plans to allocate an additional $4.5 billion in funding over the next decade.

The LSUHS-S Chancellor LSUS Foundation Scholarship is to support, through the Louisiana State University System, the development of new research and teaching initiatives. The program is designed to encourage and support the development of new programs and projects that will enhance the quality of education and research at LSUHS-S. The program is open to all researchers and educators who are affiliated with the university and who have demonstrated a commitment to excellence in their work.

On October 27th, LSUHS-S presented the Chancellor LSUS Foundation Scholarship to one lucky employee. The funds are to be used by the selected employee to help with any educational needs they may have. Of the various applicants, one employee was chosen to receive The LSUHS-S Chancellor LSUS Foundation Scholarship. Barion, in his second year as Chancellor of LSUS, has set out to answer the community’s questions about the future of LSUS. In Shreveport, L to R: Dr. Vincent J. Marsala, President, LSUHS Foundation; Bryan ‘Bo’ Ross, Chair, Development Committee, LSUHS Foundation; Dr. Robert A. Barish, Chancellor, LSUHS-S; State Rep. Roy Burrell; Dr. Hugh E. Mighty, MD, MBA, who for a quarter century, has served in various leadership positions in academia and government. According to the national center for education statistics, the number of students enrolled in postsecondary institutions in the United States increased by 10.3% from 2011 to 2012. This increase was driven by a higher enrollment rate among high school graduates, with 80.6% of high school graduates enrolled in college in 2012, compared to 77.8% in 2011. The number of students enrolled in two-year institutions increased by 11.2% from 2011 to 2012, while the number of students enrolled in four-year institutions increased by 9.2% over the same period.

In Shreveport, LSUHS Foundation and University of Mississippi Medical Center. To date, the program has provided $25 million in funding to support research and education initiatives. According to estimates made by the National Institutes of Health, the program has supported over 100,000 investigators and has awarded over $4.8 billion in grants. The program is expected to continue to grow in the coming years, with plans to allocate an additional $4.5 billion in funding over the next decade.

The LSUHS-S Chancellor LSUS Foundation Scholarship is to support, through the Louisiana State University System, the development of new research and teaching initiatives. The program is designed to encourage and support the development of new programs and projects that will enhance the quality of education and research at LSUHS-S. The program is open to all researchers and educators who are affiliated with the university and who have demonstrated a commitment to excellence in their work.

On October 27th, LSUHS-S presented the Chancellor LSUS Foundation Scholarship to one lucky employee. The funds are to be used by the selected employee to help with any educational needs they may have. Of the various applicants, one employee was chosen to receive The LSUHS-S Chancellor LSUS Foundation Scholarship. Barion, in his second year as Chancellor of LSUS, has set out to answer the community’s questions about the future of LSUS. In Shreveport, L to R: Dr. Vincent J. Marsala, President, LSUHS Foundation; Bryan ‘Bo’ Ross, Chair, Development Committee, LSUHS Foundation; Dr. Robert A. Barish, Chancellor, LSUHS-S; State Rep. Roy Burrell; Dr. Hugh E. Mighty, MD, MBA, who for a quarter century, has served in various leadership positions in academia and government. According to the national center for education statistics, the number of students enrolled in postsecondary institutions in the United States increased by 10.3% from 2011 to 2012. This increase was driven by a higher enrollment rate among high school graduates, with 80.6% of high school graduates enrolled in college in 2012, compared to 77.8% in 2011. The number of students enrolled in two-year institutions increased by 11.2% from 2011 to 2012, while the number of students enrolled in four-year institutions increased by 9.2% over the same period.

In Shreveport, LSUHS Foundation and University of Mississippi Medical Center. To date, the program has provided $25 million in funding to support research and education initiatives. According to estimates made by the National Institutes of Health, the program has supported over 100,000 investigators and has awarded over $4.8 billion in grants. The program is expected to continue to grow in the coming years, with plans to allocate an additional $4.5 billion in funding over the next decade.

The LSUHS-S Chancellor LSUS Foundation Scholarship is to support, through the Louisiana State University System, the development of new research and teaching initiatives. The program is designed to encourage and support the development of new programs and projects that will enhance the quality of education and research at LSUHS-S. The program is open to all researchers and educators who are affiliated with the university and who have demonstrated a commitment to excellence in their work.